

Varvakeios - Psirri experience

Follow us on an unforgettable experience in the heart of Athens, finding out about famous city landmarks and immersing yourselves in traditional and modern Greek gastronomy.

Let's start our day with a look at the delightful Athens trilogy and the gifts of Goddess Athena; our first stop promises a wonderful coffee and some sweet delicacies for the perfect beginning to our walk. Next comes the Central Market of Athens, vibrant with voices, colours and smells. And who would say no to visiting the fascinating "stomach of Athens"? Explore an excellent range of cheeses and cold cuts, nuts, herbs and spices – you can even go hunting for black elephants!

When in Athens, do as Athenians do: time for the best-known Greek street food worldwide: traditional flavours of excellent quality but with a modern twist that take them to the next level. After we've gained some energy, we're all ready to lose ourselves in one of the oldest neighbourhoods of the capital, now famous for its charming streets and the plentiful bars and restaurants it accommodates. Find out more about the history and secrets of this century-old city, while tasting traditional dishes and enjoying the stories behind every bite.

Our great day is coming to a close, but the perfect ending to this fascinating experience still awaits us. Save some space for fantastic ice cream produced with first-rate ingredients – it's an art!

- On Sundays, the Central Market of Athens is closed.
- The recommended duration of this experience is 10.00a.m. – 15.00p.m. (special requests may be accommodated).
- Our meeting point is the lobby of the Grande Bretagne.
