

Sounion experience

The city of Athens is world famous for the Acropolis and its monument complex, but another equally marvellous ancient temple is that of Poseidon at Cape Sounion. An exquisite location overlooking crystal clear waters that promise breath-taking views, it is testimony to ancient Greeks' "sacred geometry". Why and how were all ancient temples connected? Discover all the secrets behind the wonderful buildings and their majestic architecture. And, as the Aegean Sea glistens right at your feet, its myths are revealed: how did it get its name?

Of course, on our way to pay tribute to the God of the Seas, we'll also be able to admire the renowned Athens Riviera. Passing by modern-day city landmarks, we'll be enjoying an aromatic coffee and other delicious surprises at well-hidden, off-the-beaten track locations. Greeks also say that the fresh sea breeze helps work up an appetite. How easy is it to resist the treasures of the sea prepared with the best ingredients and traditional Greek recipes?
